

Daniel Peter Borella

November 18, 1980 - July 25, 2024

Daniel Peter (Gardner) Borella was born to Cynthia Jane Borella and Raymond Lee Kafer on November 18, 1980, in Livermore California. Danny passed away on July 25, 2024, in Kingman, Arizona.

Danny grew up in the small town of Willits, California. Danny made friends with everyone and was loved by everyone he met. He was what you called a “Popular” kid. He played varsity football in high school and loved it; it was an early passion.

Danny loved Big Trucks, Fast Dirt Bikes and Exploring. He never stood still; always on the go, doing something.

Danny’s first job was at Davy Tree, where he would scale 300-foot Redwoods. Danny was fearless.

Danny always dreamed of skydiving, and he finally seized the opportunity to do it. He also had the thrill of racing a Ferrari and a Lamborghini around the Las Vegas speedway, he was always in pursuit of an adrenaline rush. Danny always lived life to the fullest.

Danny followed his mother out to Arizona when he was 18. Also following in his mother’s footsteps, he worked at the Golden Nugget almost until his dying day. Danny made many lifelong friends at the Nugget, as well as making thousands of people smile.

Danny fell in love with his soulmate, Roxanne, and they married. Danny was lucky enough to inherit Roxanne's four beautiful children, and later, became a grandfather (Papa D). Danny loved being with his wife and children, out making memories, Danny touched so many lives and made so many people happy, and he will never be summed up in just a page of words. Danny will leave a huge void in many lives.

Danny was predeceased by his mother, Cynthia Jane Gardner.

Danny is survived by his wife Roxanne (Erlendson) Borella, the children he helped raised; Mychael Scott Hebert, Violet Hebert, Joseph Hebert, Iris Hebert, and Grandson Baby K; Sister, Pamela Litzenburg and Brother, Edward Gardner.
