This guy will definitely be missed by all lucky enough to know and call him family or a friend. My heart truly goes out to his wife and family. May God bless you all with some peace and comfort to get you all through this difficult time. Rest assured, you'll see him again. I'd be willing to bet Marcy has them all rolling on the floor and laughing, while watches over you, and waits for you guys to be together again. He definitely had a sense humor and wit that was second to none. However, under all that funny and that goofy smile, he was a guinuine nice guy that cared about people. Lots of fun crazy times in high-school. Rest in peace my brother. Till we meet again.
